

WE LOVE IT

Check it out.

A shop filled with vintage country but with a modern, simple touch.

WHAT DO YOUR CUSTOMERS LOVE?
"The rustic look is coming back. We get a lot of people building or buying country homes, and they're looking for hard-to-find things like farm tables, cupboards, benches, and rustic furniture."

~Catherine DeLattre

DANCING DOG ANTIQUES - LAKEWOOD, PA

Catherine DeLattre's renovated 3,600-square-foot barn, just steps away from her home, houses Dancing Dog, an antiques shop filled with her favorite handpicked treasures. Catherine constantly scours antiques fairs, flea markets, and estate sales for new vintage pieces, including pottery, linens, American country painted furniture, garden details, and accessories. Mixing objects in creative vignettes, Catherine gives new spins to antique items that make them feel modern and fresh. Open May to October. Creamery Road, Lakewood, PA; 570/798-2936

MUST READ

We could hardly wait for Moving On, Sarah Ban Breathnach's newest book. The author of the best-selling Simple Abundance shares her positive thoughts on the difference between letting go and moving on (Meredith Books; hardcover $25).
